

STORY OF SCOTLAND YARD'S OUTWITTING OF THE MILITANTS

While Body Guard Waited at the Dock Suffragette Leader Was Spirited Away

5,000 PEOPLE WAITED TO SEE TROUBLE AT DOCK

Mrs. Pankhurst Made No Objection to Accompanying Officers When They Came for Her

London, Dec. 5.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst is spending the night in Exeter Jail, where she was taken in an automobile from Plymouth, immediately after she had been arrested on board the liner Majestic, which arrived from New York yesterday. The police cleverly outwitted the suffragette "bodyguard," who were not aware of their leader's arrest until she was out of their reach.

Strange Tag Put Out.
As the liner neared Plymouth about noon, a strange tag, The Wolf, was seen to be moving out from Casswell Bay toward sea. The tag, which conveyed Inspector Riley, of Scotland Yard, four detectives, a wardress and Chief Constable Sowerby, of Plymouth.

The official tender of the White Star Company, with a party of journalists on board, attempted to approach the Majestic, but, as the result of a police plan, was unable to get within two miles of her, two destroyers obscuring the drama on board the liner from view.

The police, on boarding the Majestic, approached Mrs. Pankhurst, a solitary figure, standing on the promenade deck. She refused an invitation to meet the detectives in the purser's office, whereupon Inspector Riley and Chief Constable Sowerby introduced themselves and told her she was under arrest and must come with them.

Demanded His Warrant.
"Your warrant, please," Mrs. Pankhurst said. "I do not know you, and refuse to come."

"I require no warrant. You are on license and you have broken your parole," said Inspector Riley, and without further resistance Mrs. Pankhurst embarked on the tender. Mrs. Durr, an American suffragist, was allowed to accompany her.

The tender made for Devonport, she signalled to a motor car which was waiting. The coast was deserted at that point.

No suffragettes were within five miles and the "armed bodyguard" at that moment was whittling their time away with "The Marshmallow" and other selections by a brass band at the dock gates at Millbay, Plymouth.

Spirited Away.
Mrs. Pankhurst, when she disembarked, was put into a car and taken away, nobody knowing where, while Mrs. Durr remained in the tender and was taken to Plymouth.

Later the news leaked out that Mrs. Pankhurst had been arrested across Dartmoor and temporarily lodged in Exeter prison. She was forwarded of her arrest by a wireless message on the previous night. It was brief, merely "expect arrest."

Mrs. Joan Wicksman, Mrs. Pankhurst's private secretary during the American tour, said that the voyage had been pleasant. She said Mrs. Pankhurst was in excellent health and good spirits all the time, and showed remarkable improvement in every way since she left France.

The arrest was effected quietly and ingeniously and was a triumph for the police. The arrangements were on an elaborate scale.

Crowd Looked For Trouble.

About 5,000 persons, including many suffragettes, crowded around the dock gates at Millbay, expecting that the armed "bodyguard" would spring a surprise on the authorities at any moment. They waited patiently in the cold, not knowing that the militants had been outwitted. A number of police stood guard. Similar precautions were taken at the other entrances to the docks. When the rumor spread that the suffragettes came was up, there was no demonstration.

The harbor itself was patrolled by police boats, and the presence of two destroyers suggested naval aid to foil both the curious and the interested.

The climax was a little comedy of bluff between the police inspector and White Star officials, by which the newspaper men realized that they had been outwitted.

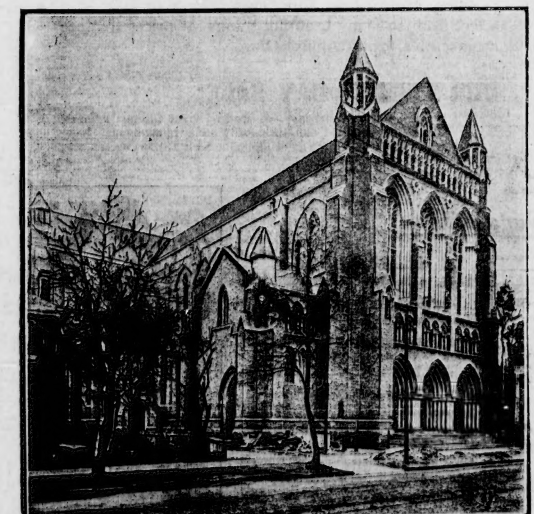

Passengers Inconvenienced.
The arrest inconvenienced the passengers of the Majestic, which was already overdue 15 hours on account of bad weather. By the additional hour's delay many passengers lost the

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH, TORONTO, LARGEST PROTESTANT CHURCH IN CANADA

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH, TORONTO, which is at the present the largest Protestant church in the Dominion of Canada, was built at a cost of $275,000. The raising of the first steeple is supposed to be the best kind of work of its kind to be found in the world. It is a product of a long standing cleavage between the Low Church and the High Church of England in Canada. At the time of the election for Bishop in the Toronto Synod, Rev. Dr. C. D. Cody, the rector of St. Paul's, was the Low Church candidate for bishop against the nominee of the High Church, Bishop Thibault of Algoma. The election was a bitter struggle, and finally the parties sat together and compromised on the election of the present Bishop Sweeney. But the friends of Canon Cody desisted at the time in erect what they considered a suitable place of worship for Canon Cody's congregation. The new St. Paul's church is the result. Later there has been in consideration of the forces of the High Church and the Low Church in Toronto.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 6, 1913.

Mr. McNamara eltes Col. Goethals' administration of the Panama Canal Zone as proof that the elective commission system produces good government. An illustration could hardly be chosen which was less to prove the case. Col. Goethals was not elected, by the residents of Panama or any other community. He was appointed by the government at Washington, on account of executive and organizing ability. He thus secured the position in the same manner, and for the same reasons, that Edmonton commissioners now secure their position under the appointive system. Nor have the residents of the Canal Zone any power to "recall" Col. Goethals, or to "initiate" regulations under which they shall live. The regulations are "initiated" by Col. Goethals, and the residents either obey them, go to jail, or get out. So far as the administration of the Canal Zone indicates the system of government best adapted for Canadian cities, the only possible deduction is that these should be governed by officers appointed by the Dominion Government without consent or consultation of the citizens. If that is what Mr. McNamara means, he is at least logical. If that is not what he means, he is not even intelligible. Roosevelt was an example of an elected executive. So was Nero. Goethals is an appointed dictator.

An experienced cattleman writes the Bulletin pointing out that the now famous Manitoba steer which captured the Chicago championship affords a striking illustration of the value of grain-feeding for the production of beef, and of the opportunities existing in Western Canada for the "finishing" of beef cattle. Grain prices in Western Canada are usually such as to leave the farmer an unsatisfactory margin of profit, while the annual blockade of the transportation system occasionally makes him an actual loser on his year's operations. Cattle prices are high, and with free access to the United States markets, likely to remain high. The moral, the correspondent points out, is to feed the coarsest feed to cattle and sell it on the hoof. As yet grain-feeding has been practically an unknown thing in Western Canada. For many years the prices offered for cattle positively prevented grain-feeding with a hope of profit. But with the wider market open to our cattle, and the assurance thus given that prices will be both good and steady, it should be a money-making instead of a money-losing business to turn 25-cent oats and 35-cent barley into beef.

Winning's board of control has followed the lead of Montreal in moving for an inquiry by the Dominion Government into the causes of the high cost of living. An inquiry of the kind, if conducted by an impartial and energetic body, should result in a report, two or three years hence, showing the various factors working together to produce the condition, and the extent to which each is to blame. As an illumination of the whole economic situation, and a permanent guide as to future action such report would be most useful, and the expense involved would be money well spent. But what the householders need and want just now is not some future elucidation of the whole system of converging factors which are making life miserable, but early and effective action on some factors whose existence and operation is sufficiently known to warrant and demand the attention of the Dominion Government and Parliament. When flour made in Canada from Canadian-grown wheat sells in England cheaper than it does in Canada, a prolonged and easy inquiry into the species of juggling by which this is brought about it not so immediately helpful as a sudden abolition of the duty against United States and other foreign flour. And when Canadian cattle and hogs are being shipped to the United States by the trainload it does not require a commission of experts to tell the Canadian consumer that a substantial reduction in the tariff taxes on clothing, boots and shoes, and imported foodstuffs of all kinds would make a compensating difference in the cost of keeping his family. For future use in the framing of tariff schedules, and other governmental operations, a thoroughgoing report into the causes of the present conditions would be of real and permanent worth. But what is wanted just now is relief from these conditions, in so far as it can be afforded, by the use of means which are known to be available. When that immediate and pressing necessity has been attended to, a commission of inquiry can with profit be turned loose to probe into all corners of the situation and tell us what they find. To defer action until such commission had done investigating would be an outrage on common sense, and are being driven day by day to wonder what they can find cheap enough to consume.

From Mexico comes news that the government soldiers have not been getting their pay, and that there is a noticeable cooling of their martial ardour in consequence. This Patriotic is not always, nor everywhere, the servant of the paymaster, but in Mexico there has always been a pretty constant proportion between the popularity of a leader and the fullness of his war-chest. That Huerta's chest is getting empty is a bad sign for him and his government.

The Ottawa Free Press wants farm machinery put on the free list, as the cost of such machinery affects to some extent the cost of producing foodstuffs. There is nothing wrong with the proposal or the argument, but the cost of farm machinery affects the cost of food only indirectly and to a comparatively small extent. It is not the cost of farm machinery, nor of farm land, nor of farm labour, nor of all these plus the farmer's profit that is chiefly to blame for the high cost of living. One cause is that merger-makers have capitalized the tariff protection accorded manufacturers of household necessities, and charge the consumer prices which have no essential relationship to the cost of production. Another cause is that certain kinds of farm produce are going to the United States by the trainload, and as the home supply was small before the export rush started there has been a natural and sudden rise in prices. What is wanted first is immediate action on the factors most seriously affecting the situation. The abolition of all tariff taxes on foodstuffs of all sorts would do something to make conditions more tolerable. The abolition of the duties on manufactured articles which enter largely into the family expense bill would materially help to re-establish more reasonable relationship between the pay cheque and the house account. If as a start the government can be cajoled, wheeled, coaxed, bullied or bribed into doing that much for the consumer, the factors which indirectly affect the living cost can be tackled later.

The United States Congress is likely to approve Mr. Churchill's proposal for an international holiday in naval construction. The United States is more favourably situated than are European powers to save a few hundred millions in that way without incurring danger of foreign invasion or the loss of overseas possessions. But from the Canadian point of view it is rather to be hoped the Republic will not decide upon any permanent policy of retrenchment in naval matters. Canada offers the greatest prize in the world to the land-hungry maritime powers of Europe and Asia. As the Canadian Government is doing nothing to provide defences for our own coasts, we must for the time look elsewhere for protection. Against the possibility of invasion the fleet of Great Britain is our main and only British safeguard at sea. But the United States is pledged by long-avowed policy and by obvious self-interest to resist attempts by any other overseas power to acquire possessions on this continent. The United States fleet, with the Monroe Doctrine at the mast-head, thus provides a second line of defence for Canada against possible incursion, whether from Europe or the Orient. It is possible—but not probable—that European diplomacy might bring about such a combination of powers against Britain as would demand the presence of her whole fleet in the home waters. But any attempts to arrange a coalition of the kind are not likely to proceed very far while the conspirators know that after tying up the fleet of Great Britain they would have to demolish the fleet of the United States before they could land an army in Canada. For that reason the United States fleet is collateral security for Canada against invasion by any European or Oriental power or combination of powers. Seeing that the people of the United States pay for it, while Canada gets the benefit of it, Canadians should be unanimously in favour of a "big fleet" under the Stars and Stripes.

Remark on the Side

The fact that the authorities felt obliged to hire a special car in order to arrest Mrs. Dankschult will lead people of all shades of opinion to admit that she is a dear old lady.

Certain British army officers are suspected of having dipped surreptitiously into the treasury, and such conduct is not creditable to British captains of industry are credited with the intention of starting a gun factory in Russia. Both courses of action may possibly be defended on the principle that "if we don't someone else will."

One alderman candidate says he objects to any secret meeting of either the council or its committee, but he does not go the length of suggesting segregation cells for the aldermen when they are not in the public eye.

According to a statement made in Calgary, the hotel men in Alberta did a business of $10,000,000 last year. If even the half of this represents the business, many of the neighbors will begin to have secret doubts as to whether the color of certain noses is really and truly due to indigestion.

A new method of identification is being advocated, based on a study of the veins of the hand. The new scheme is thought to be better than the fingerprint method, and shares with the latter the advantage that, for a time at least, it necessitates the "finger" handle being kept out of people's pockets.

The Kaiser is reported to have said that "every real man wears a moustache." It is a fact, however, that every man does not wear a real moustache, and in long a man has not stopped in Germany because one of the actors looked like the emperor. The emperor, however, one of the reasons why German army men are shaving off their face fungus.

A great ball has been held in London at which a fact, posed as living pictures in dresses that cost a mint of money, the most magnificent and daring twenty-five dances, in a self-sacrificing effort to assist the upkeep of the invalid kitchens for the benefit of poor convalescents. The curious thing about this probably one of the people who really will provide the nourishing food was at the ball.

To the Electors of the City of Edmonton

In offering himself for re-election to the chief magistracy of the City of Edmonton for the year 1914, Mayor Short begs to offer, for the consideration of ratepayers, the following matters:

"Municipal Experience"

He was Mayor of the city for three successive terms previous to 1913. These were the years 1902-3-4.

He helped to frame the original charter of the city and also such amendments as development has since made necessary.

He was chosen for the fourth time for the office of mayor for the year 1913.

He has at all times given considerable thought and study to municipal systems and institutions. He is progressive but not reactionary, and believes that good administration is a first necessity whatever the constitutional forms may be.

"1913 Administration"

Shows the inauguration and carrying out of a policy of civic improvement fully up to the demand of the growth of the city.

The protection of the interests of settled labor in the city by providing a full season's work.

The carrying out of measures of finance (a) to meet a deficit of five million dollars (b) to carry on new work (c) to establish and conserve the credit of the city for future monies.

The institution of economy in civic administration by the cutting off of unnecessary departments.

The reorganization of the audit department of the city for greater accuracy, system and efficiency.

The securing of legislation to make possible the consolidated marketing of civic and school departments.

The institution of a critical audit of work and a critical estimate of projected services in the double basis of economy and efficiency.

The fixing of a settled policy of pure water supply above the point of local contamination.

The institution of a consistent policy in regard to pavement extensions on the double basis of close inside and main arteries.

The construction of street railway belt lines and the linking up of the city and suburban lines.

The co-operation with the local board with respect to the establishment of a technical school on the Syndicate Ave. Park site.

"1914 Progress"

Carrying out of the policy of securing a permanent pure water supply.

The installation of an economical system for the distribution of waste.

Progress in the better organization and harmonization of administrative departments.

The carrying out of cost investigations with respect to all types of services and the instituting of necessary reforms on a cost and efficiency basis.

The direct appeal to ratepayers for judgment on all matters of vital and near interest relating to civic improvements and expenditure, charter amendments, franchises or municipal powers and control.

Convicts of Kingston Penitentiary Tell of Agonies of Hosing

This Punishment for Infractions of Rules of Prison Is Described as Terrible—Powerful Stream of Water From Hose Tears Flesh From Unfortunate's Body

Kingston, Ont., Dec. 5.—That, he was subjected to an application of the hose in January and that he has not yet fully recovered from the effects was the evidence of a convict at the penitentiary commission hearing here yesterday. He says he was placed in a specially constructed cell and a stream of ice water was played on him for a very minor offence.

In his evidence, the convict swore that on New Year's night a number of convicts were singing in their cells and he was accused of being noisy. The next day he was taken to the hosing cell where a stream of water, under 62 pounds pressure, was played on him until he felt unconscious. The dirt was torn from his back and he has felt the effects ever since. He has been suffering from their cells and he has been unable to sleep at night. He had been under the doctor's care.

Hosing Treatment Horrible. Although at the first meeting of the commission it was said that there had been only one case of hosing in the last 20 years, the convict today brought out the fact that there have been at least five cases of hosing in the year.

Four convicts were heard who testified to being hosed, and everyone of them described the treatment as horrible. The men are placed in a cell, the corners of which have been walled up, so that the victim gets the full benefit of the stream. Only the underbar is left on the upper portion of his body, and he is subjected to a continuous playing of the hose until he cries out in agony. He is then taken out, supplied with a dry suit, and sent to his cell. One convict said that for days after the application he was totally paralyzed in the lower extremities.

HUERTA'S FAMILY HAS GONE TO VERA CRUZ.
Mexico City, Dec. 5.—The family of Provisional President Huerta is said to have gone secretly to Vera Cruz on November 26. They are living quietly in that city, where their presence is known to only a few intimate friends.

Another form of punishment which has been in vogue is the tying up of convicts. A refractory inmate was strapped to the bars of his cell, with his hands tied in front of him. This punishment was described by several convicts, but they considered it mild compared to the hosing.

Manitoba Deported. This man is said to have received a college education in England. He is 38 years old and is serving a term. He is one of a quartette of desperadoes transferred from the Manitoba penitentiary and who attempted to escape twice.

Germany Now Facing Great Political Crisis; Chancellor May Resign

Resolution of Censor of Imperial Chancellor May Cause Him to Resign—Young Lieutenant to Blame for Whole Trouble

What Will Kaiser Do?
Berlin, Dec. 5.—Germany is undoubtedly on the eve of a great political crisis, as a result of the vote in the Reichstag concerning Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, imperial chancellor, for his astonishing attempt to justify the dragging of Zehrer, Alsace, by a young lieutenant. All Germany is wondering whether the chancellor will fall. He is appointed by the kaiser and remains in office as long as he retains the kaiser's confidence, and the resolution of the Reichstag therefore is only the expression of the Reichstag's opinion and is only effective so far as it may affect the kaiser.

Has Summoned Chancellor. It is believed that in this case, however, the kaiser has trusted the seriousness of the situation, for he has summoned the chancellor to Emsland, where he is staying. Count Veldt, civil governor of Alsace and General von Helmreich, commander of the army corps stationed at Alsace, have also been summoned. Germany is awaiting with anxious interest the result of the conference.

THE KAISER ORDERS TRANSFER OF GARRISON.
Donaueschingen, Germany, Dec. 5.—Emperor William, this afternoon ordered the transfer of the entire garrison at Zehrer, Alsace, owing to the trouble between the soldiers and citizens there. He also directed that the court martial proceedings in connection with the recent riot be accelerated.

His Majesty's solution of the difficulty is regarded in many quarters as a two-edged sword, and while it removes the danger of future conflicts, the people and members of Zehrer will suffer a financial blow by the removal of an important source of revenue.

which taken place today. It was stated last night that if the Kaiser dismisses Count Veldt, the chancellor will resign and that if the blame falls on General von Helmreich, the war minister will go.

Situation Is Grave. The situation, which has arisen simply because the foolish conduct of a young lieutenant caused a Russian sympathizer to be one of great gravity. Never since the historical interview with the Kaiser published in the Daily Telegraph has Germany been swept with such a storm of wild indignation and no quiet can be restored until Colonel Ruetz and Lieut. Pommer are punished, or at least transferred.

Several names are suggested in connection with the succession to the imperial chancellorship, including that of Admiral Von Berthelot, Admiral Von Tirpitz and even Prince Fürstberg, one of the kaiser's most intimate friends, and his first cousin, Prince Bernhard. Germany is anxiously awaiting the kaiser's decision and each party in military and civilian is confident that the kaiser will decide in the way most just to the most difficult circumstances.

Holds Same View As Reichstag. Even if the imperial chancellor gives his post for the present, his position will be seriously difficult, and will be entirely without prestige. A vote of censure has been passed only once before in the history of Germany on a chancellor, and then not by anything like such a great majority, and it is believed that the fact that the kaiser intervened personally after yesterday's debate is proof that he thinks his chancellor's treatment of the case is extremely weak. For the first time in German history, Kaiser and Reichstag seem to hold the same view. If the Reichstag is carried by tomorrow's vote, the kaiser will be in a very difficult position.

RECEPTIONS

The announcement of Mrs. Jack Landry's next agnition reception drew a host of callers to greet this charming young bride.

Mrs. Landry wore her wedding gown of soft white chambray, with white Spanish lace draperies, relieved with true lover's knots.

Madame Martin was richly gown in ecru blue chambray, with grey broad lace draperies.

Clusters of rose-pink carnations graced the tea table. Here Mrs. Frank Smith and Mrs. Hector Landry were vis-a-vis, Mrs. Jim Taylor cutting the loaves.

Miss Emily Brown and Miss Kathleen ruled the hour.

Past history of the Canadian Rockies and their present beauty is the subject of a lecture to be given in the Edmonton High School, Wednesday, December 10th, by Dr. Allen, professor of geology of the University of Alberta—under the auspices of the Edmonton section of the Canadian Alpine Club. Every one is cordially invited to attend.

Mrs. Walter Gillin's drawing room was gay with callers Thursday afternoon when this young mother, wearing a gown for the first time since her marriage.

The hostess wore her wedding gown of white duchesse satin with Irish lace and embroidery—the bridegroom gliding with raincoats.

What Is The Secret of Success

"Child of the world's desire." This is how Isobel Rochester McKay, one of Canada's foremost women writers, describes success, in a little poem of hers which she read at C. W. P. C. triennial held in Edmonton last June. As to it, here is the poem:

Who does not wish to succeed, if not in one field, in another?

What is the secret of success, you ask?

True and lasting success lies not in winning the prize, but in knowing how to take care of it once won.

A fact very often lost sight of in very much the same way that Don Quixote himself used to forget to feed his poor creature, don.

Mrs. McQueen, who received with her daughter, were gold brides.

Mrs. St. Clair Hackett assisted in the drawing room.

A silver basket of Richmond roses covered the table. In colonial and glass candlesticks red candles were lighted. Here Mrs. Harry Jones, Mrs. J. A. Kaskin and Mrs. Bert Morrison presided the first hour. Mrs. Margaret, Mrs. Robert Jones and Mrs. T. J. McNamee relieved the second hour. Assisting were Miss Mary Smith, Miss Kathleen Robertson, Miss Ella Davies, Miss Bernice Hackett, Miss Rosemary and Miss Gordon. Miss Norwood, Miss Carl Thomas, Miss Joe Day, Miss W. Frohner, Mrs. Jessie Thomas and Miss Hackett presided.

Little Alice Meyer opened the door.

Mrs. Blair, Winnipeg, who spent a day or two in town the guest of Major and Mrs. Cuthbert on her way home from the coast, left for Vancouver Thursday night.

Mr. Arthur Smith arrived on Sunday for Ottawa, calling very shortly for Harry with Col. and Mrs. Dinger and Miss Violet Langer. On their return from abroad Mr. Dinger will remain in Ottawa.

And Mrs. James Remond left last night for the old country.

Mr. W. A. Simpson has come to Edmonton to spend the winter with his people.

This season's combinations are simple in line and treatment.

It is when one has "arrived" that care and thought are necessary weapons to preserve the trophies of the chase.

King Edward VII. used to say that the top rung of the social ladder was not the fact which those students of affairs will agree, holds good in all times.

Perhaps the greatest enemy to success as well as the cause of its loss afterwards, is the lightness with which this elusive treasure is treated by people after "arriving."

The husband received, the encouraging word, the sunny smile and—most importantly of all—the thought through whose helping hand the opportunity comes, are forgotten. And it is not ingratitude, the greatest sin, according to some, which causes this.

One must have a good memory to be important to her who has won. "Give and take" counts for a great deal in the world of successful men and women. Are they not?

QUEEN MARY WINS
HEARS OF MINERS
London, Dec. 5.—John Wilson, M.P., secretary of the Durham Miners' Association, has issued a circular to the miners regarding the recent visit of Queen Mary to the house of miners at Uxbridge, and the fact that the King and Queen were the guests of the Earl of Durham at Lambton Castle.

"From the introduction of a committee at Uxbridge, Miss Wilson, the party at Uxbridge," said Wilson, "there has been a single incident or time of her visit never will be obliterated as long as their memory lasts."

"At just about the finish of the visit were two incidents which indicated her majesty's kindness of heart in the most striking manner. We were passing a house, the owner of which stood open. In three tight in view lay a woman, the door having been left open in order that she might that didn't indicate her kindly, gracious, womanly heart. Her admiration of the kindness and goodness of the woman and her heart was so great that she desired to show her even the smallest special article of furniture or convenience won their attention and has given her a place in their hearts which we the Queen as she named. I was not sure that to do, but said: 'There's a woman in that there,' and was for passing on, but was stopped by hearing the tender words: 'I must go in here,' and entering the Queen went to the house and spoke to the woman as to her health and the health of her husband and left behind her an influence which would echo the heart of the nation."

"At the end of the street, just where we got to her motor car, the most pleasing incident took place. A lady sat in a bath chair on a green, some three or four yards from the car. As we approached, I saw the hand of the invalid come out from under a cover and reach out toward the Queen."

and reach out toward the Queen. "Your majesty, here in an invalid chair, she appears desirous of speaking to you."
"Where is she?" was the inquiry.
"I pointed to the corner, and within a quick step, the Queen went over the curb and shook her hand, speaking to her in the kindest manner."

CHRISTMAS RECIPES
May you live as long as you wish, and never want as long as you live.—A Toast.
Christmas Cake.
This cake is made in two tiers, and it stands on a round wood block, trimmed with a frill of white tissue paper, finished with a fancy silver band. Raising the cake adds greatly to its appearance, and makes it easier to cut.
Ingredients for the Top Cake: 1-2 lb. of flour, 1-2 lb. of butter, 1-2 lb. of sugar, 1-2 lb. of eggs and whites of three, 1-2 lb. of cleared maltine, 1-4 lb. of glacé cherries, 1-4 lb. of citron peel, 2 ounces of bunched almonds, a quarter of a salt spoonful of powdered cream, and six drops of aromatic flavoring.
Method.—Heat the butter and sugar to a smooth cream, add to it the beat in yolks and half the sifted flour; beat in by degrees suet and cherries (cut in halves), citron, and almonds, in this order, continue beating until you mix in the whipped whites of eggs, flavoring, and remainder of flour and suet. Beat for a few moments more, then turn in a well-greased tin, and place in a hot oven. Let the heat decrease gradually, and then keep at a moderate temperature until the cake is well cooked through. This can be tested by putting in a skewer, warm knitting needle, or if it comes out clean, the cake is done. If not, put it back again for a little while longer.

FASHION'S DIARY

No more fantastic or varied, and picturesque combination of embroidery, fabrics and colors have been seen than will be worn this present season. The majority of evening gowns are covered with a delicate design, jeweled or jeweled, or embroidered in intricate threads of metal and color similar to rare Oriental fabrics refused in the cradle of French taste.

Poirot possibly leads in this fantastic variety and in bizarre combinations of diverse rich fabrics. He uses a superb brocade combination of black and gold for one of his models and develops it in the simplest way thus allowing for a true artistic appreciation of both line and fabric.

A cloak inspired by a Venetian Dora's mantle is of royal purple velvet parti-colored with pure white ermine and partly with ermine crepe.

A beaded gown is developed in black set covered solidly with jet in a star design. It is made over a charming underdress, back to the knee and white above, the white showing through the starburst motifs embroidered with rhinestones and silver thread which forms a trimming over the side. The bodice of flesh colored tulle is relieved with black tulle which forms a huge butterfly bow held in an ornament of rhinestones. A diamond shaped tulle of rhinestones holds in place a mass of tulle.

Another Poirot model is of king's blue velvet effectively veiled with chiffon on which is worked, in shades of blue, a graceful embroidery of tiny crystal beads. This forms an apron drape which is edged with ermine. The collar and sleeve draperies are of chiffon lightly embroidered with crystals. These veil an underdress of flesh tulle.

For another creation metal brocade is used for the lower bodice and upper part of one side of the skirt. The rest of the bodice is of white chiffon and short pointed train is of black charmeuse.

A gown of tormaline blue and gold brocade at the top and practical black charmeuse at the bottom. From Poirot Teller.

A distinctive creation is composed of king's blue velvet veiled for matching chiffon and edged with ermine.

The Oriental waist has invaded the domain of the tailor-made to a remarkable degree. Every fashioner, even housewifely, like Oriental chandlers, or Russian shawls, drawn into a sort of velvet or satin, or where there is no such, a band of embroidery encircles the hips to give the same effect.

The effect of this epochal elegance and suppleness is decidedly good. Every woman in Paris today is wearing well, but is not actually dressed, for no two women can wear exactly the same line, and it is the fashion of the day for every woman to claim that she has her own personality, and to seek to express her independence, first of all, in all the opportunities to her wardrobe. With the French woman the yoke comes after behind her toilette. Why couldn't more women emulate their personality in their dress?

Not infrequently one notices a woman of low build effecting a coat of Tom Thumb length, accentuating her "shortness" by stopping just at the hips.

Never have we been able to enjoy such a wide choice of colors as this season, indeed it is a season of many colors, so one can select whichever shade one's fancy desires. For evening wear, there are midnight blues, sapphire, cornel yellow, lizard green, sulphur tones, soft pink, pearl white, pinky mauve and black, for black is so fashionable as ever for evening dress, while the combination of black and white is very smart wear, or an all-black gown with just a dash of bright green introduced is new.

Pinks and blues are sure to find favor all the season as these colors were so favored by the Duchess of York, for even the bridemaids' toilettes were of hyacinth pink chiffon.

There is quite a furore for black velvet gowns, more especially those with lace or ribbon draped bodies part, but being much used as their trimming, introducing, however, colored stones, such as sapphire, cornel or yellow paillettes, which give a brightness to the black.

Hats for smart wear are mostly trimmed with black chamois lace, little being much used as their trimming, introducing, however, colored stones, such as sapphire, cornel or yellow paillettes, which give a brightness to the black.

Preference is given to hats of medium size neither too small, nor too large, but most of the newest models are turned up one side, while some brims are really eccentric, so bent, curved and cut up as they.

This season's hat trimmings are in this contest. There are no achievements marked off. There are a number of contestants who have been making a rather equal race. They have moved along within a few dollars of each other from week to week. But as the season progresses, some of the winners probably begin to show "more speed" and the rewards for contestants who make a greater effort will be varied and well worthy of greater energy and enthusiasm.

WINNER OF BROWN'S ASSORTED CHOCOLATES

Other Prizes.

The player places, the diamond rings, the Montreal prizes and the Alberta College scholarships are magnificent prizes. The prize for the lowest score is enough to get these rewards will be adequately repaid for their effort.

Today brings the special offer of more than 1250 worth of prizes for more than 2000 of the contestants.

Last Special Officers.
This week is the last time special prizes will be offered. From now on until December 22 the workers will center their attention on the big auto and the other final prizes. Winners of the special prizes of this week will probably be announced in next Tuesday's paper, certainly not later than the Wednesday paper.

All workers should study the standings of contestants in today's paper and watch the progress from now until the close. The race is beginning to be intensely interesting as it draws near its close.

The social society of St. Luke's Highland Park, are holding a basket social and dance in the Parish Hall at 8 o'clock on Dec. 8th.

Adjutant Bristow, of Winnipeg, will conduct the Salvation Army meeting on Sunday night at 7.30 in the south side barracks.

A first-class concert and entertainment consisting of fancy dress drills, dialogues, etc., will be given by the junior girls' W. A. of Holy Trinity church in the Parish Hall, on Tuesday evening next at 8 o'clock.

A hallelujah wedding will be held in the Salvation Army barracks, south of Whyte avenue post office. The Edmonton band will be in attendance. The ceremony will take place at 3 p.m. Major McLean will officiate.

The floor of the roller rink has been covered with tar paper and sawdust. The sawdust has been soaked and frozen. It is ready for flooding but the weather is too summery to make ice and the big covered rink can not now be used for either roller or ice skating.

Next Sunday, Dec. 7th will be observed as Bible Sunday in the Anglican churches in the city and diocese. The Rev. C. Carruthers of Holy Trinity church will preach appropriate sermons in his church, dealing with the great topic, "The Word of God."

The camp of C.P.R. surveyors which during the building of the high level bridge was located at Walterdale has been recently moved elsewhere. The C.P.R. work has been completed in this vicinity and when operations begin again the surveyors' camp will probably be on the north side of the river.

The South Side curlers enjoy the fine summer weather in December but the caretaker at the curling rink finds difficulty in making the ice solid enough to start the roarin' game. The doors and windows are kept closed when the sun is shining and in the night the chilly night air is allowed to enter but still the ice is slow in solidifying.

"I suppose things are pretty warm up there just now in a political way. Well, I hope Short will be elected and I believe he will. I have too much faith in the good common sense of the people of Edmonton to think they would turn down as good and faithful a servant as he has been." Such is the personal message Alderman Tipton sends from Nebraska to one of his intimate friends on the South Side.

It may be of interest to recall the result of the elections last year as a means of forecasting results on Monday. However, it might be well to remember that the city had grown on both sides, but the population of the South Side showed in the last census a larger percentage of increase than that of the north side. There has been a large increase in the outlying portions of both sides of the river.

The team is expected to win all of its games and to demonstrate to the east the superiority of the Varsity team.

KID SCALAR NOT GOING TO FIGHT AGAIN; RETIRED

Edmonton Boxer Gives Emphatic Denial to Story—He Was Surprised

"Some people have good imaginations," said Kid Scalar last night, referring to the statement published in the papers that he was matched to box Kid Kelly for $1,000. "I didn't know anything about it till I read it in the papers. I have retired from the ring, and that is final. I'm not going to box anyone. If this fellow wants a bout I'll find some one to meet him. Even if I were with him in the ring I would not meet him until he gave sufficient evidence of his ability."

Kid Scalar said he was mightily astonished when he read about the bout. He had not any intention whatever of boxing anyone, and had not spoken to anyone about a bout.

ANOTHER TRADE

By Bulletin Leased Wire. PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 5.—Officials of the Philadelphia National League Baseball Club today received a telegram from President H. C. N. WESTMINSTER WINS FIRST OF COAST SEASON

Brilliant Stickhandling, Spectacular Skating and Heavy Rushes Feature

FINAL SCORE 7 TO 5 ATTENDANCE 18 BIG

New Offside Rule Will Prove Successful—Given Another Trial

By Bulletin Leased Wire. VANCOUVER, Dec. 5.—Spectacular rushes, thrilling incidents, and an exhibition of skating on the part of the New Westminster players, that has not been excelled since the introduction of hockey, this afternoon featured the opening championship match of the P.C.H.A. season tonight.

New Westminster finished in the lead by a score of 7 to 5, and on the night's play deserved the victory. The champions of two seasons ago, with only two changes in the line-up came back in sensational form and provided over 2,000 fans with a grand exhibition.

Their all-around playing gave the spectators something to talk about.

Following away with a series of brilliant rushes which culminated in effective shots in the Vancouver net, the Royals scored three goals with a rush within six minutes of the start.

This lead was cut down before the period ended, but the Royals were never behind during the evening.

The new rule eliminating offside within an area of seventy feet in the middle ice was given a further trial to night, and there is no doubt that it will prove successful.

WHEN HAMILTON PLAYED WORLD'S SERIES OF BALL

When Canada Was Really in Baseball With Canadian Cities Playing For Title

The Interleague struggle for supreme baseball honors, the World's Series as it is known to-day, began in 1884, but the first series for the country's baseball championship dates back to 1865, and James Connally, now a cobbler in Kansas City, was the hero of the occasion, pitching and winning seven straight games in one week.

Connally, now old and bent, with the weight of seventy-seven years, told in his little shop at New York, the other day, the story of his great record, which, however, failed to win the pennant for Detroit's Hamilton. Connally took no present and the world's championship.

Connally, then a rollicking young Irishman, just home from the war, joined the Detroit White Stockings in the spring of 1865.

The baseball fever ran high in Detroit, and during the summer a committee of business men arranged for a big baseball tournament, the first world's series, to be held in the early fall.

Four Canadian Teams in.

Two teams entered from Detroit, and one each from Chicago, Pittsburgh, Buffalo, Toronto, Quebec, Montreal, Albany, London, New York, Brooklyn, Philadelphia, Hamilton and Cleveland.

The series began the morning of Sept. 5, 1865, the White Stockings opposing the Brooklynites. Connally said, "because of the great number of teams entered, the games were only three innings long. The rules were vastly different then, too. We won 2 to 0, and I pitched and won the next six straight. It don't remember what teams came in order. We didn't figure pennance in those days like they do now. My team won 40 games, if I remember right, losing 24. The tournament lasted six days, each team playing 14 three-inning games, the tournament being a continuous performance."

How Hamilton Lost.

"In those days three strikes were out, and one out expired the side. If a fielder missed the ball, he threw it at the runner, and if he hit him the runner was out. Each inning was counted separately the best two out of three winning the game. There were no much times as slouts, make or put in those days, and many fine players retired with broken hands. If a base runner was injured while making the circuit he could be laid out, unless he was on the base, for no one was allowed to run for him. A case of that kind was what nearly cost the Hamilton Unknowns the championship."

A bell in a temple in North China has been kept ringing for a century. It is kept in the district for the relief of ringers to work incessantly day and night.

FURTHER TESTS ARE NECESSARY TO PICK TEAM

Men Who Competed Last Night Showed Lack of Condition

SOME GOOD ACQUATIC SPEEDERS WERE THERE

Next Friday Night the Club Will Hold Some Additional Trials

After the trials to pick a team to defend the provincial swimming championships at the Y.M.C.A. last night it was decided that further tests would be necessary. Although some of the men who were shown off were good swimmers, and indeed in one or two cases made fast time, most of them were in poor condition, and absolutely unable to enter any serious competitions. When the additional tests have been held the team will be finally selected. Some of the times made last night are as follows:

60 Yards. Gordon, 1:40 sec. Kirk, 3:25 sec. Kennedy, 3:45 sec. Kerr, 2:45 sec. Howe, 3:25 sec. 30 Yards. Kennedy, 1:40 sec. Kirk, 3:25 sec. Kennedy, 3:45 sec. Kerr, 2:45 sec. Howe, 3:25 sec. 20 Yards. Kennedy, 1:40 sec. Kirk, 3:25 sec. Kennedy, 3:45 sec. Kerr, 2:45 sec. Howe, 3:25 sec. 10 Yards. Kennedy, 1:40 sec. Kirk, 3:25 sec. Kennedy, 3:45 sec. Kerr, 2:45 sec. Howe, 3:25 sec.

That's the starting point of your real skating pleasure. Swing out with broad, confident strokes, cut your corners with ease and spread—off down the straights—your partner keeps pace with perfect rhythm and you feel the breeze in your face—your blood runs freely—you feel it is good to be alive—you skim over the ice—your "STARR" skates don't dig—don't stick—they seem like wings.

MORNING SMILES

In order to fight the Outlaws the National League proposes a "Terror" from the State of Pennsylvania.

Those who had forgotten about Billy Taylor will be surprised to learn that he has retired from the ring for the first time.

Christy Matheson is one of the few baseball men in the country who do not work on Sunday. Matheson does not have this interest in his contract, but Matheson respects his wishes.

John W. Mather's champion bulldog hats off to England, was killed in a fight with champion Thalia and champion Christie Denton, at New York. His wind-up was reversed.

Probably the all-prevailing race for football in the United States is better illustrated by the fact that the Minnesota-Chicago game took in $12,274 than by the fact that Yale-Harvard tickets sold for $125 apiece.

That's the starting point of your real skating pleasure. Swing out with broad, confident strokes, cut your corners with ease and spread—off down the straights—your partner keeps pace with perfect rhythm and you feel the breeze in your face—your blood runs freely—you feel it is good to be alive—you skim over the ice—your "STARR" skates don't dig—don't stick—they seem like wings.

Sydney Wants League and Hope Halifax and New Glasgow Will be Included

By Bulletin Leased Wire. HALIFAX, Dec. 5.—Since the announcement of the M.P.H.A. meeting hockey enthusiasts are up to arms, and demand hockey.

Mr. Larder, of Sydney, is anxious to have the league continue this season, and is endeavouring to have the A.A.U. and U.S.F.A. will have common interests.

U.S. ROCKER ACCEPTED. NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—The American A.A.U. has accepted the Soccer Association's applications, giving the amateurs of the latter body the right to play with, or against, pros, without losing their standing. CUTS

BY WHIM MAY CUT

Dennis for begging aims and trying to effect the sale of a wombat coat.

Rev. F. A. Robinson, social service and evangelist secretary of the Presbyterian church of Canada, will be the special preacher at the evening service tomorrow at Robertson Presbyterian church.

—Is Touring the Dominion—The pulpit at the First Presbyterian church tomorrow will be occupied both morning and evening by the Rev. John Macintosh, M.A., of London, England, who is at present on a pleasure tour of the Dominion. The sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be dispensed after the morning service.

Funeral of James C. McLaughlin—The funeral of James C. McLaughlin, one of the old-timers of the city, and father of the Rev. D. N. McLaughlin, pastor of Westminster Presbyterian church, was held yesterday. The officiating clergymen were the Rev. F. W. Patterson, of the First Baptist church, of which deceased was a member, and the Rev. H. O. Stewart, of Robertson Presbyterian church. Mr. Patterson spoke very highly of deceased's life and character, and a service which was first held at the family residence. There was a large number of floral tributes.

C. A. Pickford, special writer for the Toronto Saturday Night, arrived in the city yesterday, and will spend considerable time here gathering data for a special edition of "Canada," a publication published by the unit well-known concerning dealing with the development of cities all over Canada. This number will be replete with numerous photographs of the city's building developments, and will be devoted exclusively to Edmonton. Mr. Pickford is well-known in Eastern Canada as a feature writer, and the city of Edmonton can expect the best at his hands.

The Funeral of Dr. Moorey, of Consort, Alta., took place yesterday afternoon at the Edmonton cemetery, the Rev. Thos. Howell, of Grace Methodist church, officiating. C. A. Moorey and W. S. Moorey, of 1204 Victoria avenue, are brothers, and Mrs. Nellie S. Moorey, the noted authoress of "Ireland," and Mrs. Belcher, wife of Percy Belcher, manager of the Merchants' bank, are sisters. Mrs. Moorey was present at the ceremony. There was an auto load of flowers from sympathizing friends, including a big wheel of white roses and carnations, with the rim and one of the spokes broken.

Weather Not Uncommon—It's wonderful weather we are having considering that most people think Edmonton right on the Arctic circle, but said it is not an exceptional thing for this part of the country. Mr. K. Kennedy, music director of the King Edward, speaking of the recent climatic conditions, said: "The weather is one of the real old times, having come to Edmonton by 'Thunderbolt' from the States. The winter I came," said Mr. Kennedy, "settled around our Saskatchewan place in the end of November, and the winter was so mild. Sixteen years ago they held races at St. Albert on Christmas day."

The members of the Fernhill club held their fourth annual dinner last night in the separate hall. Looking at the evening's entertainment from every angle it was pronounced most satisfactory by the old hundred people who were present. The dancing commenced sharp at 8 o'clock, and all was over at midnight. The decorations of purple and white, the rich colors, predominated, and the electrical effects were much commented upon. Delightful music was furnished by Luck's orchestra, and a well selected program of the latest hits, led to the hearts of all young folk with a shout of enthusiasm.

TAKES CHILDREN TO PARENTS—Rev. J. H. Jahren, financial secretary, of Lake Park, Minn., orphan home, arrived in the city on Wednesday morning, with three boys, who were taken into the home some time ago, owing to the poor circumstances of the parents. The latter have now come out to Alberta and established a comfortable home and feel that they can take care of their children. Rev. Mr. Jahren left the city with the boys Wednesday afternoon, and they will be with him when he returns to the city and growth from the point of Mr. T. Nelson in the hall at the corner of Kingsdown avenue and Morris street next Sunday.

He said that the orphan home of the United Church at Lake Park, Minn., has about 125 children and the number is increasing. "We were not aware that there was a pastor of his name in the city," he said, "and we were surprised to find that that was the case. He did not have time to meet his old friend, Mr. T. Nelson, before leaving for the country, but will make his first visit with him when he comes back. He did not expect to find a soul that he knew in Edmonton, but he met a brother of a schoolmate of many years back at Robertson, Iowa. He met Mr. T. Nelson, and he is now at the Lutheran College, Edmonton, until soon because the central meeting point for students of all nationalities and creeds. There can be understood the language of Rev. Jahren should make it a point to hear him next Sunday."

IDEAL GIFTS

Pocketbook a little lighter than usual this year, perhaps? Here's an easy way out of the gift difficulty—BUY Books are ideal gifts at any time—for anybody, but especially so when the matter of expense must be considered. Your bookkeeper can supply literature-gladdening gifts for all your family members and everyone of your friends. Ask him for suggestions.

Here are four good ones—ALL NEW, CLARKE and COOK, which he will be glad to show you: T. TEMERHOM.
My Mrs. Frances Holmes Burnett. One of the brightest and most charming novels of the year. A clever, happy and heart-rending book, check full of healthy optimism.

By Meredith Nicholson, a full-life story, centering around an unconventional and charming girl. Your girl friend—young men, too—will like it. Price, . . . $1.35
JANUARY 2nd, 1914.

By Mrs. Kate Douglas Wiggin. This new novel has all the charm of the Rebecca books, with special heart-touching features, which will make it generally popular. Price, . . . $1.25
JANUARY 2nd, 1914.

Artistic Wall Papers

Our stock is of such value that it merits your most careful consideration. Only papers of artistic merit and exclusiveness are handled and the selection of these is made with the care and skill that only years of experience can give.

MRS. PANKHURST IS ON HUNGER STRIKE IN JAIL AT EXETER

Suffragette Leader Already Has Refused to Take Food in Prison

ARMED SQUAD TAKES REVENGE IN OUTRAGE

Women Have Plan to Do Something Sensational in Next 24 Hours

London, Dec. 5.—The threat of the militant suffragettes to resort to violent methods of revenge for the arrest of their leader, Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, was put into effect this morning with the destruction of a mansion at Wemyss Bay, Scotland, several attempts to destroy letters by pouring acid into mail boxes here, and numerous isolated cases of window smashing. Moreover, it was stated the women had a plan to do something sensational within the next 24 hours, and the police everywhere kept a strict watch. In the meantime, Mrs. Pankhurst remains in Exeter jail. She has commenced a "hunger strike."

Punishment on the Majestic, on which Mrs. Pankhurst made her voyage across the Atlantic, said of the indignation of the travellers at being detained for over an hour in Plymouth harbor, to enable the police to cuff the suffragette, who planned to rescue Mrs. Pankhurst. An American put it: "All this to serve our little woman." The English press also is inclined to sneer at the elaborate police plans. The Manchester Guardian remarks: "There was an absurd disproportion between the actual danger of the arrest of Mrs. Pankhurst and the elaborate preparations of the police."

The Westminster Gazette says: "It is absurd to describe the arrest of Mrs. Pankhurst as a triumph for the police."

In State of Collapse. Exeter, Dec. 5.—Mrs. Pankhurst is said today to be in a state of collapse, having started both a hunger and strike since her arrest on board the Majestic, yesterday.

ANOTHER CANADIAN TRANSCONTINENTAL

Present, Ont. Dec. 5.—P. A. Knapp of this city, who is promoting the new Canadian transcontinental railway from Cape Breton to the Pacific Coast, is now in New York, where the Gould family are reported to be interested in the undertaking.

The company will be capitalized for $100,000,000. It is known that the new line will be built in the shortest time.

Arrival of the Funeral Tomorrow. Brandon, Man., Dec. 5.—The funeral of the late H. M. Arnold, victim of the Vancouver bank robbery, will be held here tomorrow morning at 10 a.m. at St. John's Anglican Church. The remains will arrive here tonight, accompanied by deceased's wife, whose mother resides here.

FRANCE OBJECTS TO NEW AMERICAN TARIFF

Representative of French Foreign Office Makes Statement to U. S. Ambassador

Paris, Dec. 5.—Adverse comment in both France and the United States on the effect of the new American tariff on the trade of the two countries has led the French Foreign Office to authorize Daniel Auzat Chevalier, chief of the bureau for American affairs at the foreign office, to give expression of the government's view of the situation.

M. Chevalier did this in an informal statement to Milton T. Herrick, the United States Ambassador, as follows:

"You know personally what is the feeling of responsible opinion in this country toward yourself, your government and the United States. Nothing in the world can prevail against it."

"As regards commercial interests, the new tariff, although it has been and will be friendly discussion, has not produced any bad effect on commercial relations of the United States and France. Although the United States will much more to France than it gets, the exportations from France to the United States have grown by nearly 100 per cent. in the last five years, and the imports by just five per cent. No market is more worthy of attention from the United States than the French market and this is ridiculous."

No market is more worthy of attention from the United States than the French market and this is ridiculous.

"Above all it must be borne in mind that unreasonable customs regulations will only serve the commercial rivals of the two countries. Fortunately, neither America and France are willing to be maneuvered against each other."
